UNIT CODE	UNIT DESCRIPTION
CHCMHS001	Work with people with mental health issues

UNIT OVERVIEW

CHCMHS001 - Work with people with mental health issues

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to establish relationships, clarify needs, and then work collaboratively with people who are living with mental health issues.

This unit covers the following elements:

- Establish respectful relationships with people with mental health issues
- Determine the needs of people with mental health issues
- Work with people with mental health issues to meet aspirations and needs

Knowledge Evidence examples: Knowledge of the legal and ethical considerations (international, national, state/territory, local) when working with people with mental health issues, and how these are applied in organisations and individual practice, including children in the workplace, discrimination, duty of care and work role boundaries; values and principles of the mental health sector; appropriate responses to changes in mental health, mental distress and crisis.

Performance Evidence examples: Students will be required to show evidence of the ability to have worked with at least 3 people with mental health issues in ways that support individual empowerment and recovery through:

- the use of communication techniques
- provision of adaptation of services to meet particular needs.

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as, using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.
