If support requirements are identified, the following is a guide for support services that may be provided. Some part qualification programs/ individual units of competency will not require an LLN to be completed.

Significant LLN deficiency that would prevent participation and completion of the course	Refer to a local provider or TAFE to complete an LLN enhancing course.
Recognised difficulties in studying and learning	Scheduled one-on-one support sessions at regular intervals throughout the program. These can be used to engage the student and have verbal discussions about the content.

- Pre-screen - For full qualifications, a member of the Acacia team will contact the applicant and conduct a Pre-screen. This allows the applicant to get some more information about the qualification they have applied for and also a chance to discuss and previous skills or knowledge that will support the application.

Disability Supplement

Disability in this context does not include short-term disabling health conditions such as a fractured leg, influenza, or corrected physical conditions such as impaired vision managed by wearing glasses or lenses. The purpose of the disability supplement is to provide additional information to assist with answering the disability question/s in the enrolment form. If you indicate the presence of disability, impairment or long-term condition, please select the area(s) from the following list:

- Hearing/deaf Hearing impairment is used to refer to a person who has an acquired mild, moderate, severe or profound hearing loss after learning to speak, communicates orally and maximises residual hearing with the assistance of amplification. A person who is deaf has a severe or profound hearing loss from, at, or near birth and mainly relies upon vision to communicate, whether through lip reading, gestures, cued speech, finger spelling and/or sign language.

- Physical A physical disability affects the mobility or dexterity of a person and may include a total or partial loss of a part of the body. A physical disability may have existed since birth or may be the result of an accident, illness, or injury suffered later in life; for example, amputation, arthritis, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, paraplegia, quadriplegia or post-polio syndrome.
- Intellectual In general, the term 'intellectual disability' is used to refer to low general intellectual functioning and difficulties in adaptive behaviour, both of which conditions were manifested before the person reached the age of 18. It may result from infection before or after birth, trauma during birth, or illness.
- Learning A general term that refers to a heterogeneous group of disorders manifested by significant difficulties in the acquisition and use of listening, speaking, reading, writing, reasoning, or mathematical abilities. These disorders are intrinsic to the individual, presumed to be due to central nervous system dysfunction, and may occur across the life span. Problems in self-regulatory behaviours, social perception, and social interaction may exist with learning disabilities but do not by themselves constitute a learning disability.
- Mental illness Mental illness refers to a cluster of psychological and physiological symptoms that cause a person suffering or distress and which represent a departure from a person's usual pattern and level of functioning.
- Acquired brain impairment Acquired brain impairment is injury to the brain that results in deterioration in cognitive, physical, emotional or independent functioning. Acquired brain impairment can occur as a result of trauma, hypoxia, infection, tumour, accidents, violence, substance abuse, degenerative neurological diseases or stroke. These impairments may be either temporary or permanent and cause partial or total disability or psychosocial maladjustment.
- Vision This covers a partial loss of sight causing difficulties in seeing, up to and including blindness. This may be present from birth or acquired as a result of disease, illness or injury.
- Medical condition Medical condition is a temporary or permanent condition that may be hereditary, genetically acquired or of unknown origin. The condition may not be obvious or readily identifiable, yet may be mildly or severely debilitating and result in fluctuating levels of wellness and sickness, and/or periods of hospitalisation; for example, HIV/AIDS, cancer, chronic fatigue syndrome, Crohn's disease, cystic fibrosis, asthma or diabetes.

- Other A disability, impairment or long-term condition which is not suitably described by one or several disability types in combination. Autism spectrum disorders are reported under this category.

6. All students are required to complete their units in the allocated time period (normally 12 months), otherwise additional charges may be incurred.

Workplace Delivery

Workplace delivery is 'on the job' with the assistance and support from your employer. This mode is generally used for traineeships but may also be used for students who work in the industry of which they are studying but are not employed as a trainee. The trainer/ assessor will work with the employer to prepare a training plan to help achieve your learning outcomes and goals. Students will need to have their own access to relevant resources such as laptop or computer, internet and Microsoft Office suit (depending on course) assessments by hard copy, electronic (fillable PDF) or on Acacia eCloud.

Assessments will be flexible and centred on your daily work tasks. Assessment is used to give you feedback on your progress and measure your skills and knowledge against the qualification requirements and the requirements of your industry.

Your trainer/assessor works in partnership with your employer to perform the assessment responsibilities. Assessments will normally take place with your employer while the trainer/assessor observes your progress. During the process, you may be asked questions and have a chance to show evidence of your achievements.

It is the trainer's/assessor's responsibility to ensure you receive the full scope of information and knowledge required to complete your assessments.

Your designated trainer/assessor will make scheduled visits during which they will:

- a. develop a training plan with you and your employer;
- b. help to identify and assess your current skills and knowledge;
- c. help your employer to develop training strategies;
- d. look at workplace documents which help demonstrate your skills and knowledge required;
- e. discuss any workplace projects that have resulted from the traineeship/course;
- f. ask questions seeking information about your work practices;
- g. seek to source any training resources and equipment required;
- h. observe you at your workplace
- i. help arrange any off-the-job training if this is required;
- j. review your progress to examine whether the on-the-job training is leading towards the level of skill required in the traineeship/course;
- k. monitor your progress throughout the training plan;
- l. confirm any workplace assessments your employer has carried out;
- m. assess the skills during the term of the training program and ask you and your employer to sign off when assessments are undertaken
- n. record the progress on file and store this information confidentially;
- o. ensure that a qualification is issued on completion of the training program.

As a trainee, you must be withdrawn from work duties to undertake structured training and assessment activities. Withdrawal time is paid work time. The minimum release times for trainees within NSW is 3 hours per week whether they are full time or part time.

You will be provided with a Release Hours Logbook for each individual unit of competency where you can record the hours you have been withdrawn from work duties for each unit. These hours must be signed off by you, your employer and your trainer/assessor.

If you are not meeting the requirements of being withdrawn from routine work duties for the applicable minimum time, Acacia has an obligation to report the matter to the relevant State Government Training Department within 21 days of it being reported to Acacia.

Assessment Submissions and Re-submissions

The assessments you will be undertaking for Nationally Recognised Training are normally competency-based, meaning you are not assessed or compared to anyone else and there is no grading such as a percentage, a mark, a grade, or pass/fail. You will be deemed 'Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' and you will have the entire duration of the course to demonstrate competency.

The competencies required and assessments for your course are to be clearly stated to you at the beginning of the course.

All trainers/assessors are bound by a code of practice to ensure assessments are valid, reliable, flexible and fair. The trainer/assessor will seek evidence to confirm achievement of the stated competencies in your course. More than one competency may be assessed at any given time.

Assessments must be submitted in line with the Individual Training Plan dates and in line with the requirements of their chosen mode of delivery (see above). If extensions are required, this must be discussed with the trainer and assessor and a Training Plan amendment must be made to allow for the extra time needed.

Students are given the opportunity to re-attempt any assessment activity if they do not complete it to a satisfactory standard on the first attempt.

The following types of assessment methods may be utilised:

- a. Theory (short answer)
- b. Presentation/demonstration
- c. Case study
- d. Essays or written reports

- e. Projects
- f. Verbal Questioning
- g. Workplace observations
- h. Third party reports

Do not regard your assessments as examinations. Your trainer/assessor simply needs to know which competencies from your course you have mastered, and which competencies require further practice, and the trainer/assessor will be flexible in the assessment methods used.

Assessment Feedback

All assessment tasks undertaken will be assessed and you will be given feedback on your outcomes from those assessments. This feedback will be constructive and, if you are found to be 'Not Yet Competent', your assessor will explain to you why, and what you need to do to gain competency.

Course Completion

Upon successful completion of a qualification with Acacia, you will be issued with a Certificate or Statement of Attainment showing the units of competency you achieved within 30 days of completion.

Trainees

If you are a trainee, you have until the contract end date to complete your course. If you complete the course earlier than the contract end date, you will be considered an early completion and will no longer be considered a trainee. This will require the approval of your employer.

Non-trainees

You have 3-18 months to complete your course (depending on the qualification – please refer to your specific course information brochure). Fees may apply if you require an extension on your non-funded course.

Withdrawal from Course

If a student of Acacia decides to withdraw from a course, they are required to complete the "Student Requesting Withdrawal" form. This form must be completed in as much detail as possible and submitted to the trainer/assessor, or emailed directly to info@acaciaeducation.com

If withdrawal occurs after 28 days from enrolling or after course commencement (whichever comes first) all fees are still payable and no credential will be issued for any completed work until said fees are paid in full.

Complaints and Appeals

Acacia recognises the need for students, staff and other clients to have confidence that Acacia will deal with grievances in a fair and equitable manner based on procedures that are appropriate, accessible and easily understood.

Complaints can generally be directed at the general performance of Acacia or its staff in the delivery of our services.

Appeals may be lodged against an assessment decision or complaint outcome. For assessment appeals refer to the section below.

In the first instance complaints or appeals should be discussed informally with the staff or trainers/assessors involved. Where possible, disputes are managed and resolved informally. However, if the complaint or appeal cannot be resolved informally the student can submit a formal complaint / appeal form. If you require a form, please contact Acacia.

The complaint or appeal will be dealt with promptly. All formal complaints and appeals are to be directed to, and will be dealt with by, the CEO of Acacia Group Pty. Ltd. Contact will be made within 10 working days to arrange a time to discuss your complaint or appeal. You are welcome to bring a friend or advocate to this meeting if that is your choice. Internal complaints and appeal services are free of charge.

Assessment Appeal

If you do not agree with an assessment outcome you should first discuss the matter with the trainer/assessor concerned. If the issue cannot be resolved at this point, then you may lodge a Complaint / Appeal Form with the CEO as above.

You will be provided with a written outcome on your case including the rationale for the decision. If you are satisfied with the resolution agreed, actions will be implemented, and the complaint or appeal will be closed.

External Complaints and Appeals

Where no mutually acceptable resolution can be found, you may wish to have the matter dealt with through an external resolution process facilitated by bodies such as:

- NSW Fair Trading www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au/

This NSW government department provides information and assistance for consumer issues.

- Training Services NSW

For programs funded by the NSW Government (such as Smart and Skilled Programs), students may wish to contact Training Services NSW's Customer Support Centre regarding any unresolved complaints or appeals on Ph: 13 28 11 to be directed to your nearest office, or use the enquiry form at https://www.training.nsw.gov.au/build/online_forms/general_enquiry_form.html

- Australian Skills Quality Authority

ASQA accepts complaints about training providers from all members of the community. ASQA is not a consumer protection agency and cannot act as an advocate for individual students. However, all complaints are used to inform regulatory activities. Ph: 1300 701 801 Email: enquiries@asqa.gov.au

Record Keeping

A written record of all complaints handled under this procedure and their outcomes will be maintained for a period of five years. These records will remain with the student's file and cannot be accessed without a written request to the CEO.

Student support

Acacia supports students to achieve their learning goals and to achieve satisfactory progress towards meeting the learning outcomes of the course by attempting to:

- provide the opportunity for students to participate in services designed to assist them in meeting course requirements.
- provide the opportunity for students to access welfare-related support services to assist with issues that may arise during their study, including course progress requirements.

If you feel you need additional support to successfully complete your course, contact your trainer/assessor who will attempt to arrange the support services required.

Student Code of Conduct

All Acacia students are required to act in a courteous and professional manner. We ask that you participate positively in discussions and activities with your trainer and your fellow participants.

If you are ill for longer than a 2-week period, you are to advise your trainer in writing of your upcoming absence. Where applicable, a doctor's certificate is to be sighted by your trainer.

You are to follow the instructions of your teacher/trainer and other Acacia staff, act in accordance with any signage at any training facility and follow any directions of Acacia staff members, as long as they are lawful. You are to complete any reading, assessments and other learning tasks as directed by your teacher/trainer, as long as they are lawful.

We ask that you do not bring drinks or food into training rooms, however bottled water is accepted.

Workplace Health and Safety (WH&S)

All students are to ensure they act in accordance with applicable WHS requirements. You must not act in a way that endangers yourself, other participants, visitors to Acacia or visitors to any training premises being used by Acacia, or Acacia staff. You must also advise an Acacia staff member if you observe any potential WHS risks, and of any incidents where a person has been injured or could have been injured.

Drugs, Alcohol and Smoking

Students must not bring onto any premises where Acacia conducts training and assessment, any illegal drugs, nor consume, or be under the influence, of any such drugs whilst participating in any Acacia class or learning activity.

Students must not consume, or be under the influence of, alcohol whilst on any Acacia premises or premises being used by Acacia, when on work placement, or while participating in any Acacia class or activity. Students of any age are not permitted to bring any alcohol onto Acacia premises.

Where a student is, or is suspected to be, under the influence of drugs or alcohol, the trainer/assessor will ask the student to leave the training premises and the student will be issued with a written misconduct warning. In the event of a recurrence, the student will be immediately withdrawn from the course.

Acacia premises, and any other training premises used by Acacia Education & Training, including amenities and grounds surrounding the premises, are strictly non-smoking areas. You are not to smoke anywhere in these premises nor within 10 metres of the building perimeter.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the practice of taking someone else's work or ideas and passing them off as one's own. It is required that all work submitted is the student's own work and all evidence submitted must show that it was created by themselves. Plagiarism will not be accepted by Acacia and where it has been detected that a student has plagiarised, the trainer/assessor will return the work to the student and provide an opportunity to re-submit said assessment.

If continued plagiarism occurs, Acacia may suspend the student from their course which may lead to withdrawal.

Access to Records

All student records, such as personal details and records of participation and progress are kept within a secure area (both electronic and hard files). An electronic record of each Student's enrolment and participation is kept on the Student Management System for a period of 30 years; this record is secure and is only accessible by select employees of Acacia.

All students have the right to access their record of participation and progress within a timely manner. To access their records students are required to forward a request in writing to Acacia.
